

Steel Thread Reflection Prompts

What did I achieve?

Was what I achieved what I planned?

Did I get where I wanted to go, but in an unexpected way?

What was hard?

What was easy?

What was surprising?

What work did I expect to do that I ended up deferring?

What work did I expect to be out of scope that I ended up doing?

Did I uncover new dependencies?

What skills, tools, or other resources did I learn I might need? What resources might not be necessary after all?

Do I want to change my approach to the project based on this steel thread? How?

What questions did I answer?

What questions still remain open?

What new questions came up?

Have I uncovered something that might change my overall goals or my tactics? When and how will I decide whether to change or hold steady?

What do I want to ask the audience in my demo?
