

Provide a worldwide assessment of the market for metallized and vacuum coated papers and films, including market sizing, growth rates, geographic and substrate segmentation, and application trends. Also trends and developments, including opportunities and threats facing the sector.