

Opening - March 2026

Week 3: Small Openings

What are two ways this situation could be understood?

What interpretation feels most natural to me right now?

What other interpretation could exist beside it?

What meaning might this moment hold beyond the first one I noticed?

If this situation were still unfolding, what possibilities might remain?

What interpretation would make this situation feel lighter?

What interpretation would make this situation feel more complex?

More than one meaning can exist
at the same time.

Let them sit together.

See what shifts.
