THE HISTORIC ROGERS HOTEL IN DOWNTOWN WAXAHACHIE

100 N. College Street | Waxahachie, Texas 75165

HISTORY

The hotel is named after the founder of Waxahachie, Emory W. Rogers. He built his log cabin home on the site in 1847, and after several years, built a two-story hotel in 1856. Unfortunately, it was destroyed by a fire in 1881. The Waxahachie Real Estate & Building Association built a second hotel on the site which also burned to the ground in 1911. The Rogers Hotel that stands presently was designed by Architect C.D. Hill in 1912, and opened in early 1913. The project cost approximately $100,000. The hotel has twin four story towers constructed of reinforced concrete, faced with dark molten brick, trimmed with bedford stone and claimed to be "absolutely fire proof." The West tower roof was designed with a roof garden restaurant with an incredible view of the city. The East tower roof was designed for sleeping tents for open air enthusiasts, while the basement boasted a billiard room, barber shop, and swimming pool.

The hotel has gone through several owners and periods of vacancy throughout its lifetime.

TODAY

Jim Lake Companies purchased the property and has restored the historic hotel to its former glory. It no longer operates as a hotel, instead it is home to restaurant, retail, office, and loft tenants. Down the line, Jim Lake Companies and Moreno Lake Management hope to renovate the roof garden restaurant on the West tower.
