

Transformed Identity Declarations

1. I am not becoming free. I am free.

Jesus did not partially heal me or temporarily forgive me. He made me new.

2. The person I used to be was crucified with Christ.

That version of me no longer has authority, voice, or legal standing in my life.

3. The life I now live is the real me.

I live by the life of Christ in me, not by the memory of who I was.

4. Accusation does not define me.

Conviction leads me forward. Condemnation is a lie I no longer partner with.

5. I agree with Heaven's verdict.

I am forgiven, transformed, and adopted. My identity is settled. My future is secure.

6. I live from freedom, not toward it. What Jesus finished, I receive.

What He buried, I do not resurrect. This is who I am now.

And I can show you I'm not even making this up...

- "I have been crucified with Christ, and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me."
