

13 January 2025

On this day I (glue) interviewed TheFearlessHussar, 1stSGR leader and head admin of the Mod Events community. The below messages/evidence in speech marks are all from him, you can interpret this as you like. All of the messages are from TheFearlessHussar himself.

I hope that you will consider the following as good enough to take action against Marth, as well as the various circumstantial evidence/screenshots I sent in the groupchat. Screenshots available on request.

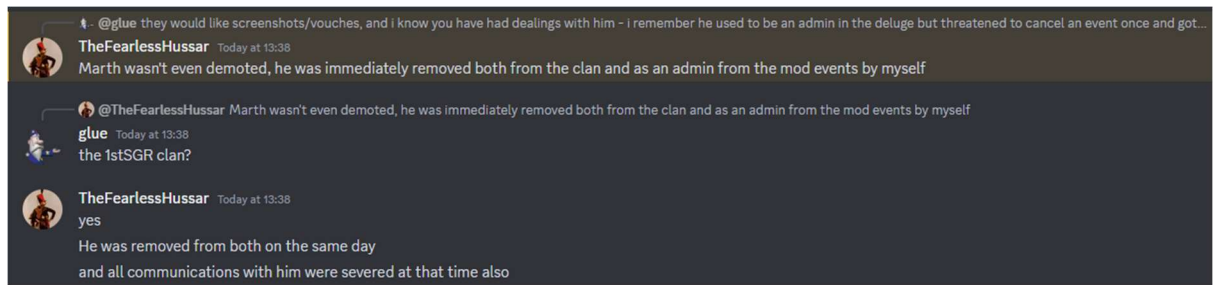

If you come across amadoow or pablo please don't mention them in any public report as Marth thinks they support him.

1. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8ovkzwPpKOQ>

This is a video from Marth's channel. The girl in question is German and named Anna, who "Marth said he had dated before" but "never had sex according to him." "Marth would always say that he was 18 or 19 at the time that had transpired. She was either 14 or 16 I believe. The truth of the matter is that he was probably 20 or more at that time based on the date that the video was posted. The only benefit of doubt that i'd give to Marth's claim on this one is if the video was reposted quite a long time after he posted it for the first time"

"Also the current video is a re-post from a Polish guy who downloaded the original from Marth's channel. I do not know if you wish to mention that as one could say that the Polish guy had fabricated it somehow-though consider the fact that Marth never challenged the video's existence. He only challenged the narrative of his age at the time that he dated the girl shown in the video. Still, I'd rather mention everything as on point as possible."

2. "Second, he has admitted in our clan's VC(1stSGR) and I quote "I'd rather have sex with a child than be a virgin." This can also be confirmed by amadoow who was also in VC at that moment. You can add him and he will confirm it but whenever you make a report on this please don't say that amadoow confirmed it because Marth thinks amadoow supports him. (edited)"
3. "I believe that the general opinion that the 1stSGR has of Marth to be much more trustworthy as nothing he said to us was extracted from him using such "trickery" so to speak. Everything he said was said by him and often repeated by him at his own discretion and free will. Moreover, we were not aware of what the deal was with Marth for a long time, so if he says that we tricked him into thinking he was safe to say all that stuff, that's not true. Even after we were aware of what was going on and willing to give him the benefit of the doubt the man appeared to be very uncooperative, unwilling to even shut up when we told him that the things he was saying only made his situation worse. At some point it had become apparent to us that the man was indeed what he was rumoured to be, a conclusion which we reached entirely based on his conduct within the 9-10 months that he had been with our clan and not based on outside influence(aka the rumours about him) which we had ignored thinking that they were exaggerated."

5. “Still, both Marth's written admissions in text and in VC which I had posted as well as his general behaviour whilst in the SGR as that can be verified by myself(as leader) and other members of the clan active at that time(pablo, amadoow, ladicious, evil, etc.) should be more than enough evidence that he was at the very least inclined towards, essentially, illegal behaviour anywhere within the EU outside of Hungary. And I am saying that because as Marth often stated and as is unfortunately true the age of consent in Hungary is 14 years of age so even if anyone wanted to report him, as far as Hungarian law is concerned, he was doing nothing illicit.”
6. “Furthermore, and based on Amadoow and Pablo who remained in contact with Marth after he was banned by pretending to believe him, he did not very much changed his attitude in any way. After all the in-game screenshot which I sent before was taken after Marth was banned from the 1stSGR and the mod events and whilst he was an officer in the HLI(aka before he couped that regiment from Rics who is now in the Nr32).”
7. “In regards to the instance when Marth was banned, I'd personally say it was a long time coming. A large number of people started accusing Marth of being a pedo in the general chat of the mod events discord and he got extremely angry and demanded that I delete the messages and ban those posting them(at the time I was the only one with such perms on that server). I refused to do so and Marth threatened he would not give us his server(we were using his server at the time) for that day's event(Tuesday Deluge I believe) and so I banned him. Tbh that would have happened sooner or later anyway, I knew it and everyone else did too. The funny thing is that if Marth had simply shut up at that moment literally nothing would have happened. Asking me to delete the messages was a literal admission of guilt even if one was to forget about every other instance during which Marth admitted that Hungarian law allows him, as an adult, to be with a 14 year old. If one was to say that he was simply being unjustly blamed, my question to them would be extremely simple: how often do you see a significant number of people argue(admittedly both for and against) on whether someone is a pedo or not in warband? Yes, it does happen that one might call another a pedo on say Tropical Paradise and I've seen it happen as an admin there. But it is nothing we'd call serious and definitely nothing persistent especially not from amongst people who do not know each other(most of those accusing Marth on the day he was banned were random pubs, aka members of no clan).
8. Long story short, Marth is probably a pedo or at least inclined to such behaviour. He thought that he was too important for me to ban him even though he had ample indication that I would ban him if he himself proved to have indeed been what he probably is. Should anyone wish to question me or the SGR for trying to "trick" Marth or that we did not give him the benefit of the doubt, all I think is necessary is that they consider that we endured his ego-maniac behaviour for 9 months during which he made sure to annoy each and every single member of the clan and stayed on just because I believed it would be unjust to ban him-and would not ban him in good conscience-without being certain of his guilt, in other words giving in to outside pressure and condemning someone for something that they did not do. But that was not the case. We, me and the clan entire at first, defended him, I personally told him many times to shut up so as to reset his image in the community in a way and yet he kept insisting on repeating what I've already mentioned before. I do not even believe he can "change" if anyone argues that all this happened X years ago. He took every opportunity not to better his image but instead to attempt to convince others that his position on the matter of age of consent was not just legal but reasonable."

thanks for everything so far, do you know any other regiment leaders who also banned him? or do you know the regiments/communities that have banned him?

TheFearlessHussar — Today at 14:28

Not really. Besides you'd probably have to go way back to his time in WFaS for that and that was years ago.

"years ago" as in 6+ years ago

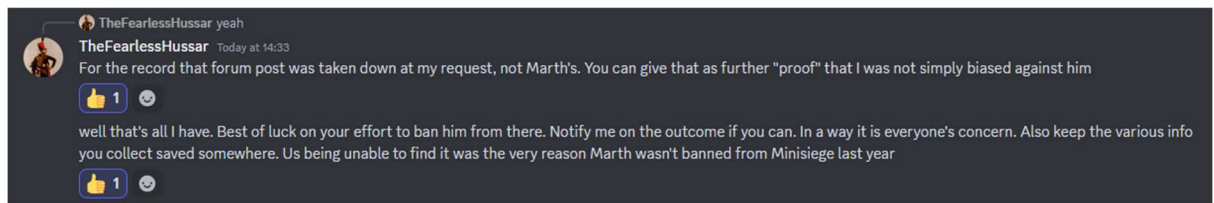

And the people from that time either did not keep track of very much or thought that banning him/accusing him on forums was sufficient

I am saying that because members of our clan tried speaking with them when Marth was still in our clan

But they kept either providing no evidence of their claims or their evidence, much like that forum post was forced out of Marth by baiting him

That was the very reason that we did not take the accusations against him very seriously for a long time

"Do include this screenshot as it was from a year after he was banned (from 1stSGR and the mod events community). You can show it as proof that his argumentation had not changed in the slightest"
