

Nate Jones is an Assistant General Counsel in the Corporate, External & Legal Affairs group at Microsoft Corporation, based in Redmond, WA. He manages Microsoft's legal and policy strategy related to law enforcement and national security compliance. In that capacity, he oversees the company's compliance program, provides legal advice the engineering groups across the company, and coordinates Microsoft's public policy efforts around the globe. He joined Microsoft in 2013.

Prior to joining Microsoft, Nate served as a Director for Counterterrorism on the National Security Council (NSC) staff at the White House (2009 – 2012). From February to September of 2009, Nate was Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General in the National Security Division of the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ). Before joining DOJ, he spent more than seven years working on Capitol Hill, including five and a half years as a Counsel on the Senate Judiciary Committee. He graduated cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center and holds a Bachelor's degree in International Relations from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.