THE EXPLORATION SERIES

Heaven's Door Exploration Series is all about pushing the boundaries of whiskey craftsmanship. With our master distiller's guidance, we explore new finishing methods to create unique limited-time offerings, enriching the whiskey experience.

Annually, we will launch two unique expressions, each a testament to our dedication to breaking new ground in the whiskey world. We're not bound by tradition; instead, we look to innovate with new whiskeys, finishes, and staves.

The initial release of the Exploration series is heavily influenced by France, with Heaven's Door exploring French elements in terms of product, wood, and technique. The base is a blend of our award-winning Tennessee straight bourbon whiskey, which is then further matured in fresh dumped French Calvados Brandy casks.

Calvados, an apple brandy from Normandy, France, matures for at least two years in French Oak Casks. Once our bourbon embraces the sought-after calvados characteristics such as fresh apple cider and baked apple brandy, we move it to new medium-heavy toasted French oak barrels made from Quercus Petraea trees. The fine-grained Petraea oak contributes excellent aroma, medium ellagitannins, and high oxygen permeability, complemented by a heavy toast that enhances the baking notes commonly linked with apples, including brown sugar, pastry, caramel, and biscuits.

The Exploration series' inaugural expression is aged for no less than 5 years, bottled at 108 proof, and has a $79.99 suggested retail price point, with an expected shipping date in December 2023.
